

Before we go on, let's get a few things straight. I didn't trade three hundred pounds of steak to a slick city peddler for a few magic beans (it was jalapeño seeds). Nor did I gain a goose that passes precious metals. If I did, I'd be writing this from my personal moon casino.

Read more about Mark's chile-growing adventures on the Burn! Blog here .