

The 2011 Scovie Awards was unique, because For the first time in the competition's 16-year history, two products tied for the Grand Prize in the Tasting Division. That's pretty amazing, considering we're talking about 650 products entered, with a panel of more than 100 judges. Even more remarkable is how different the two winning products are: a spicy candy and a horseradish sauce! Meet the winners on the Burn! Blog here .
