

Writer's Guidelines - Share Your Ideas With Us!

The Fiery Foods & Barbecue SuperSite covers the entire realm of fiery foods and barbecue, including gardening, spicy products, cooking, barbecuing, and travel. It is our goal to present the most interesting information, articles, photos and recipes about these fascinating subjects. If you're passionate about a certain area, share your ideas with us!

Please query with ideas first. Do not send unsolicited submissions, as they will not be read or returned. All queries are to be emailed here along with clips of recent works and contact information.

Articles should be concise (1500 words or less, though we may consider using longer articles as a multi-part series) and, more often than not, include recipes. Please state availability of photos and/or other visual material.

If contracted, send the article either in the body of the email or as an unformatted Microsoft Word document (single-spaced, flush left, with NO bold, italic, underlining, or changes of fonts or font sizes).

We strongly suggest that potential contributors browse our web site and read the latest articles. Thank you for your interest in contributing to the Fiery Foods and Barbecue SuperSite. We look forward to hearing from you!
